

An angler's brief guide to the introduction of new salmon and sea trout byelaws – River Rheidol

Salmon

All salmon must be released with minimum injury and delay

Salmon season - 1 st April to 17 th October
	April	May	June	July	August	September	October
Fly	1st April - 17th October
Spin	1st April - 17th October
Worm	No worm fishing
Shrimp and Prawn						1st September - 7th October

Sea trout

All sea trout greater than 60cm to be released with minimum injury and delay

Sea trout season - 1 st April to 17 th October
	April	May	June	July	August	September	October
Fly	1st April - 17th October
Spin	1st April - 17th October
Worm	1st April - 7th October

Worm fishing is only allowed for sea trout with a single worm using a single barbless hook with a gape less than 8mm.

Please note that dates are inclusive

Hooks

All hooks must be barbless or de-barbed

On artificial flies with a hook gape greater than 7mm, hooks are restricted to singles or doubles

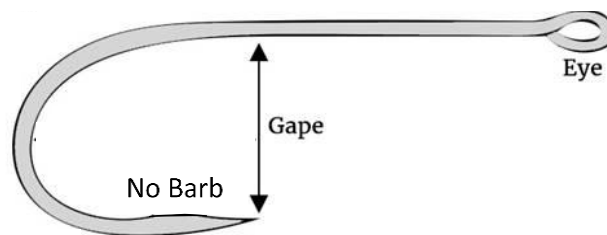

On artificial flies with a hook gape 7mm or less, hooks are restricted to a maximum of two hooks with a total of four points between them

No treble or double hooks are permitted on lures used for spinning

Spinners and spoons can have only one single hook with a gape of 13mm or less.

Plugs can have a maximum of three single hooks, each with a gape of 13mm or less.

Shrimp and prawn fishing is allowed from the 1st September until 7th October with the use of a single treble hook with a gape of less than 7mm.

Further details of byelaws affecting the rivers in Wales, non-migratory trout, coarse fish can be found on the NRW fisheries pages. <https://naturalresources.wales/days-out/things-to-do/fishing/?lang=en>